Throughout the newsletter positive comments from the students have been placed.

Dear Savage,

October ushers in the second full month of school for our students and teachers, and our students are slowly adjusting to the demands of new classes and academic challenges. Much has been going on at the school and several things need to be celebrated. The chemistry class has new Kindle Fire devices and is piloting an online textbook. A few students have commented that everyone should have one. Ten new laptops have been purchased for the computer lab and are used for Montana Digital Academy. Two new smart boards have been purchased to ensure that all teachers have this technology available to them. Our new camera security system is up and running as of Friday, September 26th. Our recently installed doors to the office and playground entrances have brightened up the hallways. The elementary students continue to use the renovated playground as long as there is daylight. Our new Vo-Ag teacher, Jessie Ross, has taken the Wildlife Management class to the river to build and evaluate blinds. She has also purchased some chicks to raise and produce eggs. Alan Hoffman, the English teacher, has the students busy silent reading novels for enjoyment, and presenting persuasive speeches. I have observed the speeches and am impressed by the research and logic invested in the project. Henry Huber and Brain Sandwisch are busy getting to know and teach the students in grades K-12, not an easy task to do! Sydney Stonehocker, the math teacher, is busy teaching mathematical strategies and thinking skills and I hear how much students love math.

As I have stated before, it is a year of change, and change can be slow and difficult. Yes, mistakes have been made and noted, but the staff is committed to keeping our academic achievement high and our outlook positive. We welcome suggestions and compliments that help establish a safe learning environment for our students.

Sincerely,
Lynne Peterson

Calling All Instrumentalists

Savage Public School is opening up participation in our pep band to members of the community. If you are somebody who used to play an instrument and would like to dust it off and join us for the basketball games, please contact Brian Sandwisch (419)707-3879, to show interest and get more information about playing with us. We will begin a weekly Monday night rehearsal beginning on October 13th. We will begin at 7:00 and should be over no later than 8:00.

Thank you,
Brian Sandwisch

"I like choir because the songs are easy to memorize and I love to sing."

A WORD FROM ONE OF OUR TEACHERS

We are off to a great start in 4th Grade this year! It is wonderful to see the students come in with such enthusiasm and excitement for this school year. We have been very busy reviewing Math concepts from 3rd grade, brushing up on the parts of speech, learning the four types of sentences and using them to form paragraphs, as well as conducting a novel study on the book Because of Winn-Dixie, which includes various activities that make connections to history and community. The 4th graders are also enjoying the Geography unit we recently started and are looking forward to utilizing their creativity in our upcoming projects in which we will be constructing model volcanoes and becoming map makers! My goal is to keep our days filled with fun and educational lessons to keep the enthusiasm going throughout this year!

Thank You from the Art Department!

Ms. Cassandra Moos and all of the K-12 art students would love to send out a great big THANK YOU to everyone who has donated items and money to the art department over the last 12 months. With your donations our classroom has become more organized and our art projects this year can be bigger and more diverse!

Our art department even received a small grant from the Quaker company to aide in purchasing two small hand presses for printmaking projects. Now that we have these new pieces of equipment, the students will be able to create more professional works of art.

As the year progresses and more of the new products have been used, there will be photos uploaded to Ms. Moos' page on the school website. PLEASE keep watching for new photos of the upcoming projects as the students are sure to have some remarkable works of art this year.

You can visit Ms. Moos' page at www.savagepublicschool.com/cassandra-moos.

One of our new hand presses!

Seniors

Once a week our Seniors go down to the Kindergarten room and read to the students.
